

Call for Papers

8th International Conference on Dynamics In Logistics (LDIC 2022) Bremen, Germany February 23-25, 2022 www.ldic-conference.org

Scope

Dynamics of logistic processes and networks are at the heart of the conference. We invite empirical, theoretical, methodological, and practice-oriented contributions addressing the modeling, planning, optimization and control of processes in supply chains, logistic networks, production systems, and material flow systems and facilities.

LDIC 2022 provides a forum for the discussion of advances in that matter. The conference addresses scientists in logistics, operations research, engineering, and computer science. It aims at bringing together researchers and practitioners interested in dynamics in logistics.

Topics

- Digitalization, Shared Economies, and Supply Chain Management
- Supply Chain Governance
- Modeling and Optimization Methods
- Uncertainty, Risk, Resilience, and Performance
- Multi-modal and Maritime Logistics
- Sustainable and green logistics
- Humanitarian logistics, disaster management, and COVID-19 logistics
- Cyber-physical Systems and Material Flow Systems
- Artificial Intelligence, Big Data, and IT platforms
- Human-Machine Interaction

Submission and Publication

Authors are invited to submit their contribution in one of the following formats:

A full paper with up to ten pages – excluding author details and references – which will be considered for publication in Springer's "Lecture Notes in Logistics", one of the most downloaded Springer books, indexed by Scopus, Web of Science (ISI), ACM DL, DBLP. Full papers must contain original research. Submission of material that has already been published elsewhere or simultaneous submission to other conferences with proceedings is not allowed. Full papers will be double-blind peer-reviewed.

An abstract (for presentation only) with up to 250 words – excluding author details and references – which will appear in the Book of Abstracts that will be given to the participants at the conference.

The submission system – including author instructions and Springer's template – will open in June 2021 on the conference website.
